James checks the required materials & sees that he need a $120 textbook
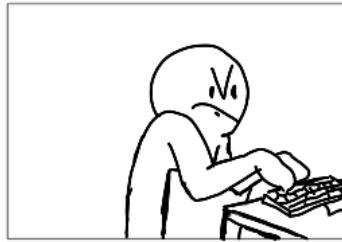

James begins to search for a cheaper option

Which he finds. He stumbles upon a $30 rental

James calls customer service to make sure he gets an access code, which he does

James then rents the textbook

James can now access his assignments

Maria is looking for a required textbook that comes w/ an access code

She compare bundle prices + used book, but realizes she needs the access code from a bundle

She searches for ways to make it cheaper

She finds a campus aid

She applies the aid + drops the price

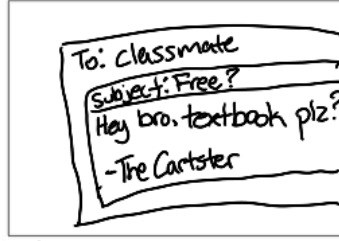

She can now access her material

Elijah stumbles upon a student textbook exchange site.

He requests a PDF shared by a classmate

He chooses a 60-day rental

A moderator looks over everything

He is then shipped a physical textbook

Now, he can complete assignments